SOJOURN

(SŌ´ JŨRN)

1. To Stay or dwell temporarily; abide for a time 2. visit 3. a short stay

Patience is a virtue.

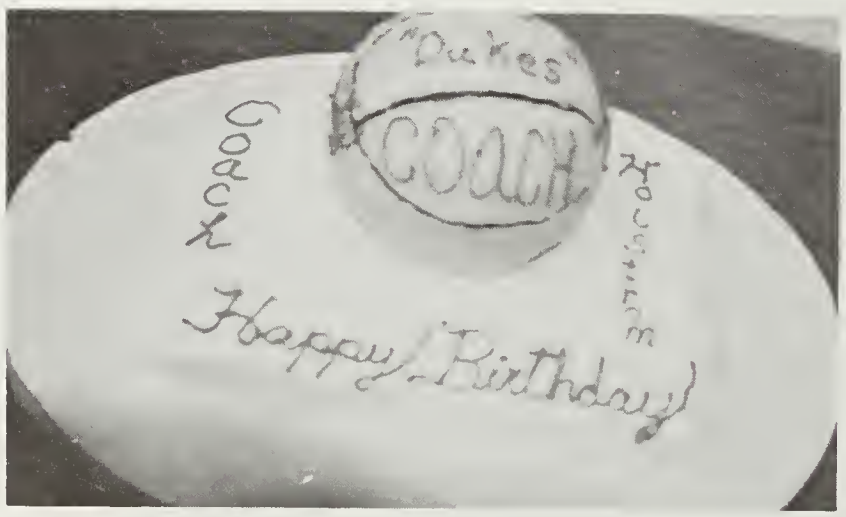

Another MIchelangelo?

For all of us, high school is perhaps one of the most important times in our lives. It is here that we gain the knowledge which forces us out upon the world. It is here that we discuss the answers to the world's problems, that we talk instead of fight, and that we get our first taste of the red tape which surrounds the world. Opinions and morals as well as algebra and English are acquired.

As freshmen, we enter and are overwhelmed as term papers, civic projects, and all types of try-outs plague us. We continue through, and with each year comes a new set of goals and a new set of activities. But, by the end of our senior year, we have grown older and wiser, and we realize that this SOJOURN is about to end, only to be followed by another.

When they do this for you,

then you know something has happened.

Who, us? we're just meditating.

This is show # 31, right?

Oh! did I do that?

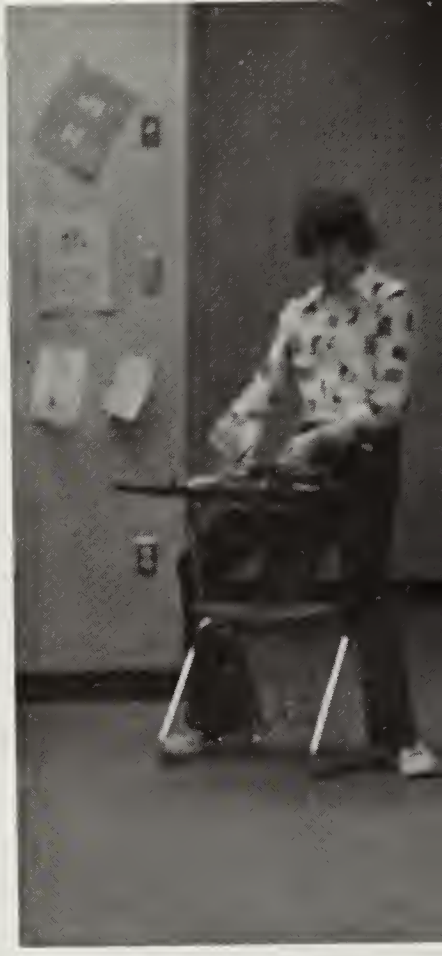

Ayse Kellecioglu, our foreign exchange student.

Not too lively, are they?

Do you think that she will notice us?

Who put the tacks in my chair?

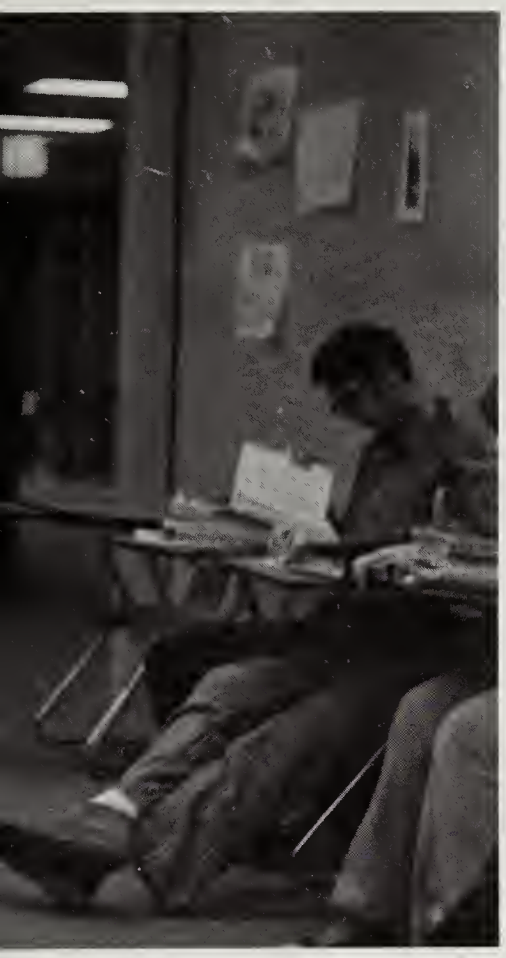

I wish that this thing would learn to type by itself.

A mechanic in the making.

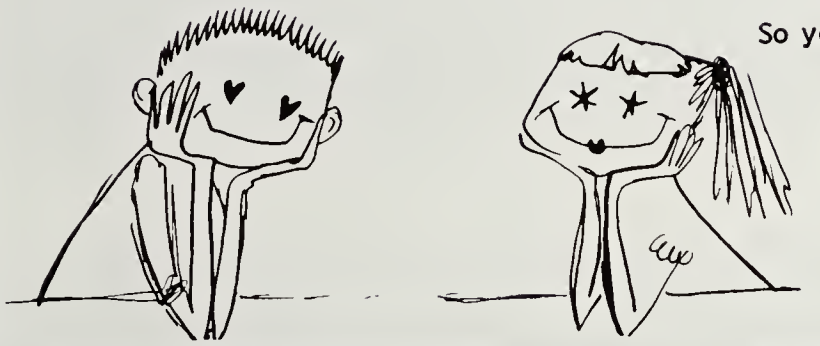

STUDENT LIFE

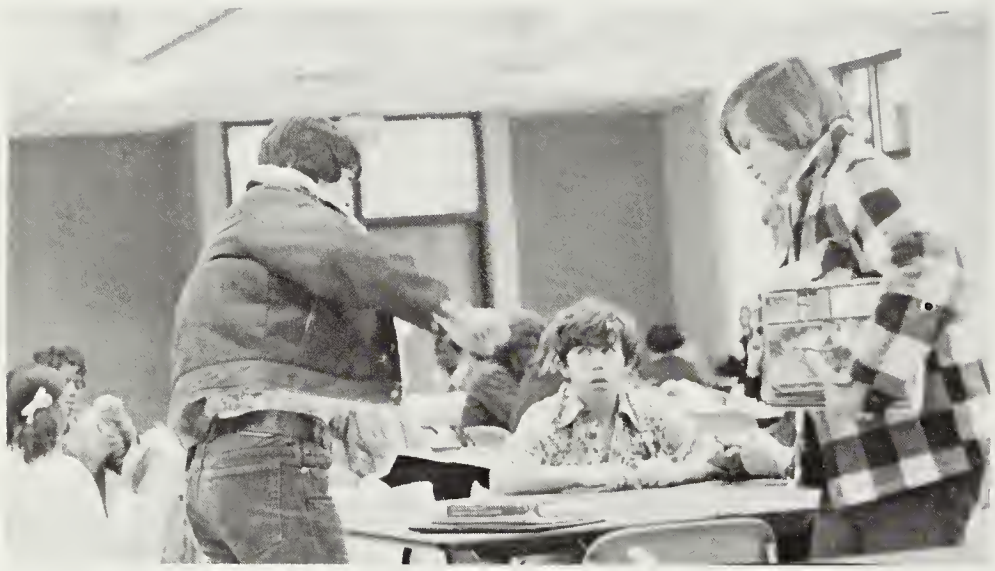

So you REALLY think so Toby.

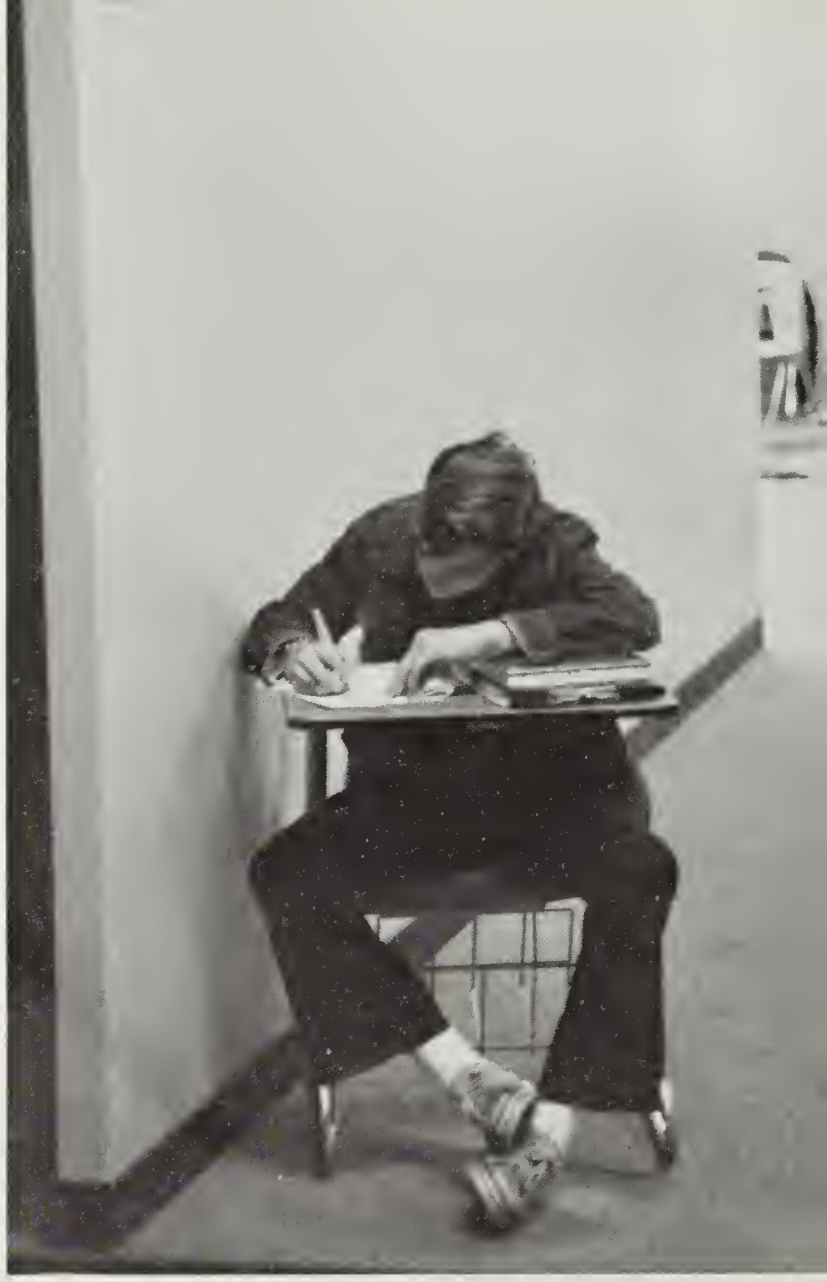

If it says Libby's Libby's Libby's on the label, label, label, you will like it, like it, like it on your tray.

I dare ya!

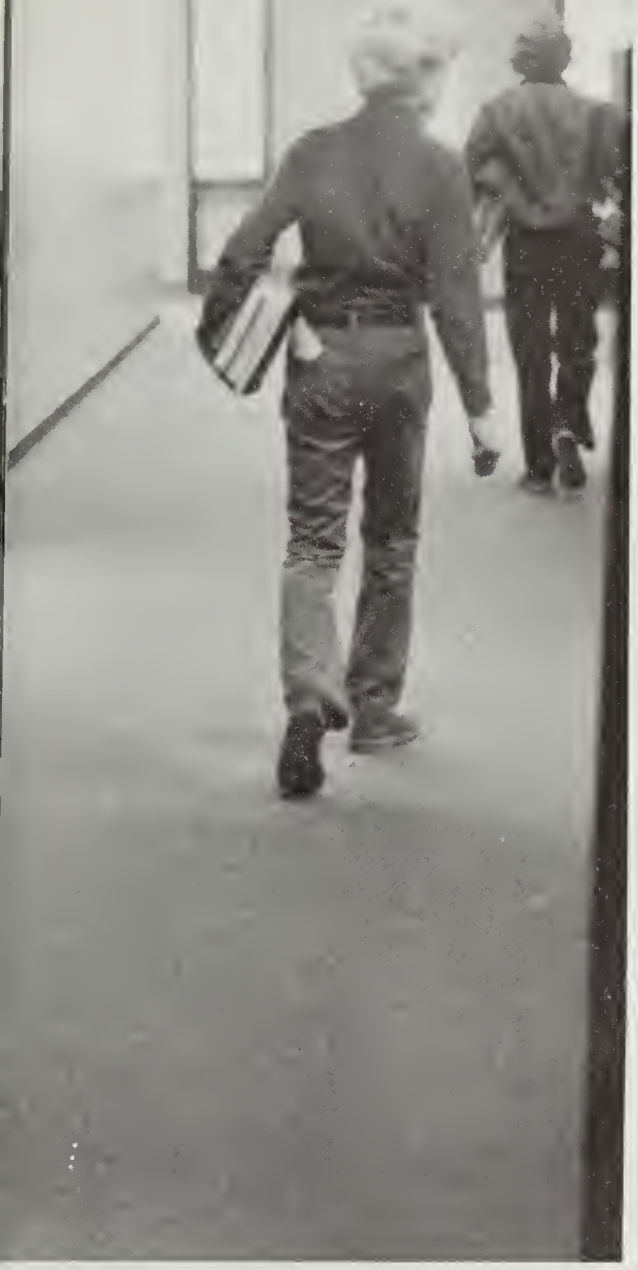

STUDY! STUDY! STUDY!

Gotta run.

John, stop [illegible]

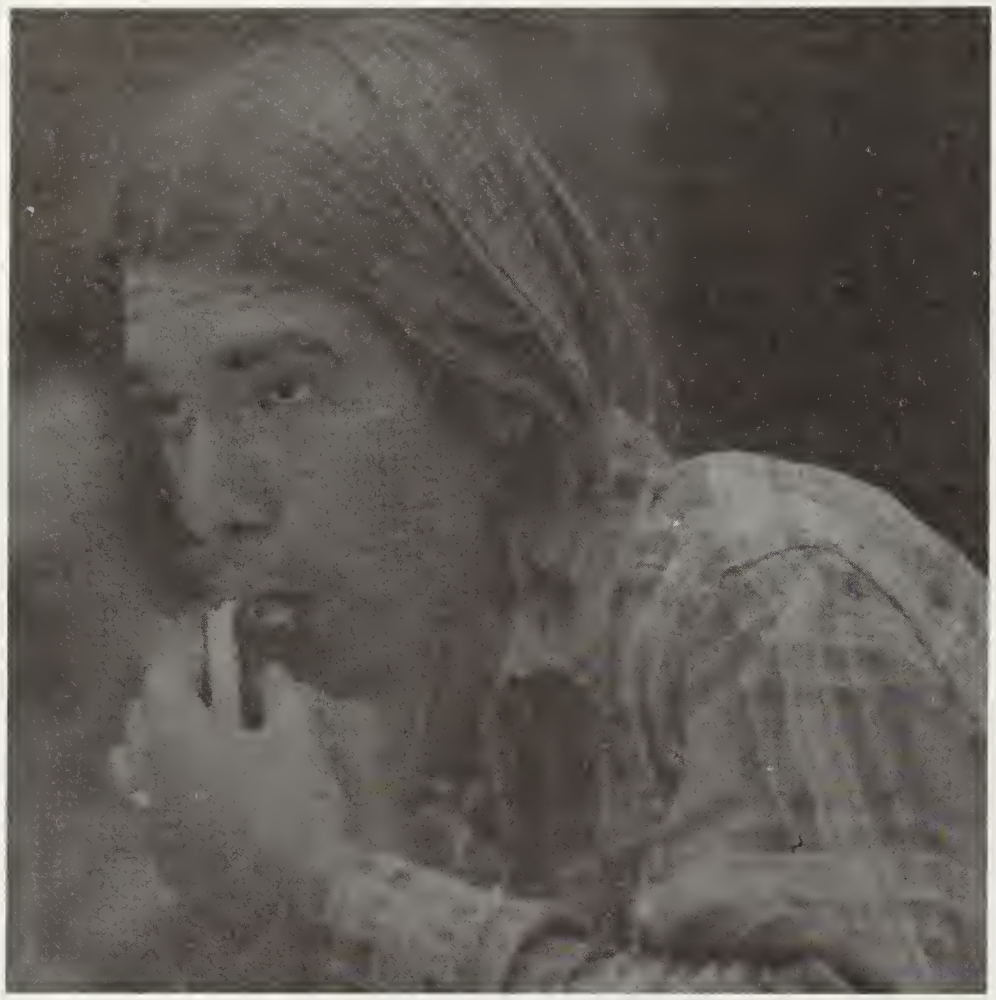

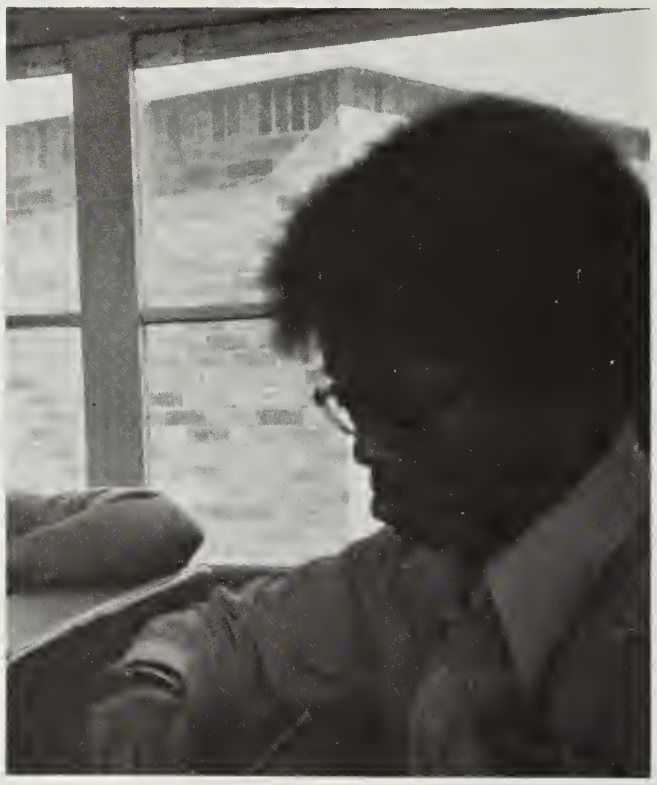

What cha say?

I wonder if that was a worm
I just ate?

Mu lundu shtunda' duln!

They took my (sniff) teddy!

Peter Zahn's about to blow up Mrs. Isner.

What calculator?

Quick before the food gets here!

Another Wayne Berry original.

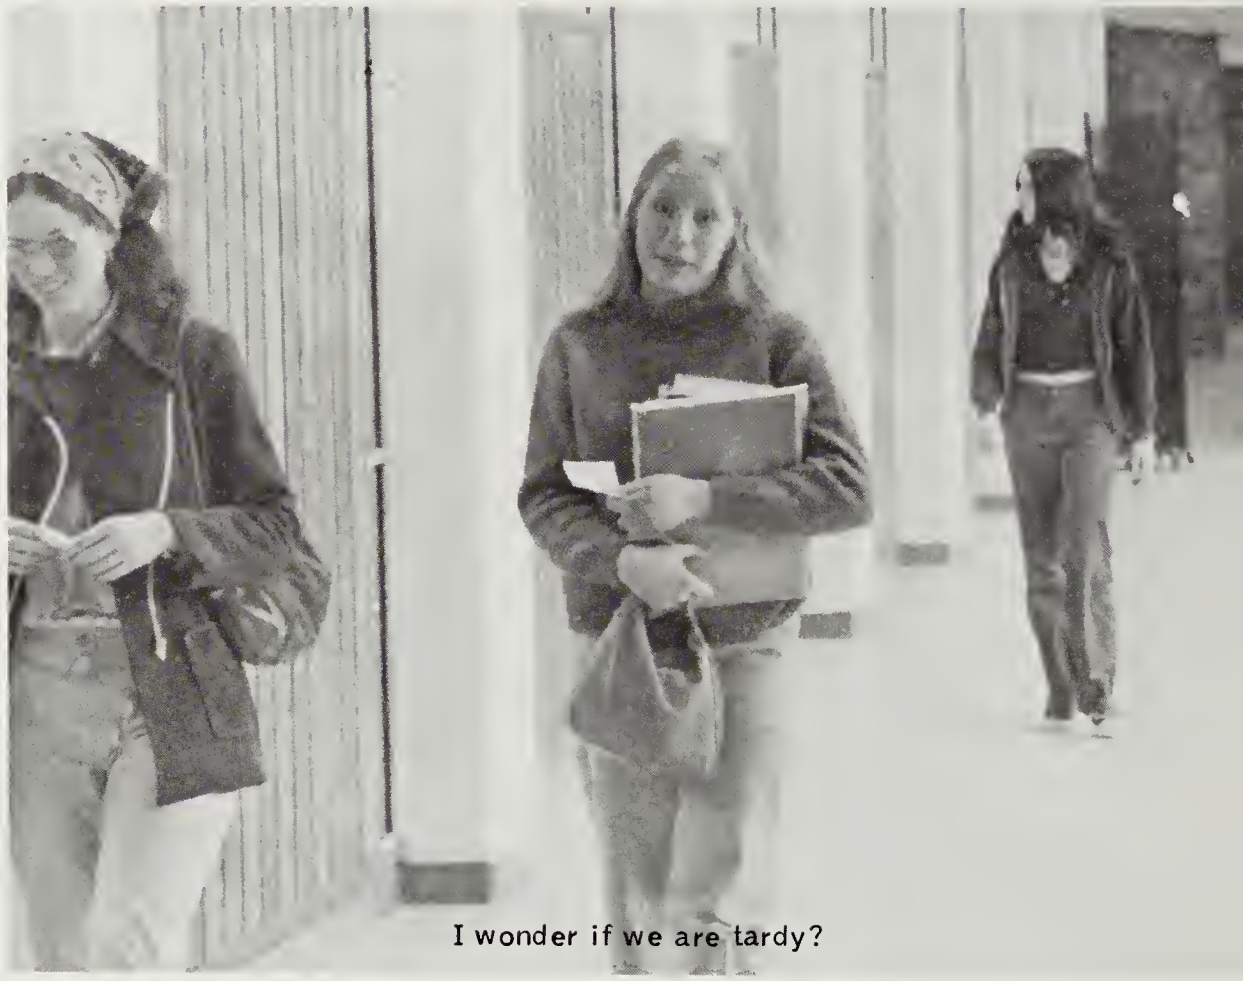

Roll one, Curl two . . .

Did you hear the one about the photographer . . .

Boy, some classes really pack them in!

I wonder if we are tardy?

I hope my Nutty Buddy has nuts on it today.

I couldn't believe . . .

Smile Holly, your on goofy camera!

Was there film in that camera?

Alright, who took my guitar?

Triumphant during Homecoming week, the Seniors began their year on a spirited note. They won the float competition, and went on to win the entire Spirit Week competition. With this reputation the Seniors soon got over their newness to the school, and began to assert themselves as upperclassmen.

College applications were mailed, job interviews were held, and almost before the Seniors realized it, graduation was near. The final days slipped by as the Seniors were given early exams and the Senior Banquet was held. Finally as caps and gowns were adjusted, the Seniors marched to their diplomas and to the world.

CLASS OFFICERS

President Mary Soles Vice President Carla Smith
Secretary Breta Jenkins Treasurer John Donner

The Prom and Ring Dance--a junior's world revolves around them. It seems that just as soon as a junior steps through the door on the first day of school, the ring man grabs him. From this moment it's a long, uphill climb.

The Ring Dance is the first big event on a junior's agenda. The big night arrives and just as quickly passes; however, before juniors can even take a breath, they are selling candy to raise money for the prom. It's only after refreshment, decoration, and band committees have completed their tasks that the final starlit evening comes. Ah--a sigh of relief and another successful prom ends.

Peanuts, popcorn! Get your popcorn! Beginning with only a hundred dollars this year, the obvious goal for the sophomore was to earn more money, and so he set about this task by working in the concession stand during home football games.

Having one year of high school on his side, the sophomore dug into spirit week with high hopes. It seemed that if the floats were to be judged by effort then the sophomores would surely win, but . . .

FRESHMEN

CLASS OFFICERS

President Jannis Davis Vice President Bernetta Jackson
Secretary Beth Foor Treasurer Lawrence Brown
Recorder Lisa Leigh

Normally, it is the freshman who finds himself constantly lost on the first day of school. However, this year, he soon felt at ease because everyone seemed to be lost. If anything, the freshman felt he had an advantage over everyone else because he would have a longer stay at the new high school. The freshman became very proud of the fact that he would be in the first class to attend high school entirely in the new school, and was not about to let anyone forget it.

A member of the largest class, the freshman proved his strength during spirit week by winning "jean's day."

This year, the Gloucester County School Board underwent a change in personnel. When Mrs. Arline Lanciano left her school board post, her empty seat was filled by Mrs. Elizabeth Zahn. After serving the remaining year in Mrs. Lanciano's term, Mrs. Zahn has just been chosen to serve the next four year term until 1980. Now that we all have the new high school, let's hope the school board can continue to improve the quality of education in Gloucester.

Staff

Once again, the Cavalier staff has been plagued with the traditional problems that come with putting a book together. We got off to a good start, but that was all. Ad sales were low, and so were our hopes for much money to work with.

As the deadlines approached and passed, things began to fall behind for various reasons. The most popular reason is the same every year. In the beginning, there are as many as thirty people on the staff. By the spring though, only four or five are left to complete the job.

Special appreciation goes to Mrs. Tice, and to the group of people who met in June to finish the book. Long hours and tired bodies are what finished this year's Cavalier. I hope people realize that some of us stayed up long hours to give the school a book. As next year's editor, I kown it will happen all over again, but it is almost a normal part of life at this point.

Veda dishing it out.

Mrs. Tice and Kathy Panchinson pay attention.

NEWSPAPER

Numerous meetings and photo sessions at the beginning of the year were a sure sign that something was happening. Gloucester, under the leadership of Miss Folk, was trying to again get a newspaper going for the high school. Things looked good at the start, but soon the group began to become disorganized, and the hopes of a newspaper for the school disappeared for another year.

CREATIVE WRITING

Once again under the happy sponsorship of Mr. Flowe, the creative writing club had a rather quiet year. This year's group was rather dormant compared to previous years. There was no book of writings. However, even with no book, and a smaller group, the inspired men and women still exist in today's world.

DRAMA

Mr. John Raynes once again led the drama and Thespian clubs to good year. Although money was lost on both "Godspell," and "Ten Nights in a Barroom," the acting experience gained was invaluable.

Trouble started right at the beginning of the year, when the department was told no evening rehearsals were possible without exit lights. With that, the production, "The Crucible," went down the drain. "Godspell" also almost fell because of lack of the needed scripts. Even with all these troubles, a good spirit was maintained, and a dozen new Thespians were initiated.

THESPIANS

TEN NIGHTS IN A BARROOM

One of the most famous temperance melodramas ever written, TEN NIGHTS IN A BARROOM, was adapted for the musical stage by Fred Carmichael. Using popular folk songs, he created a package that was entertaining yet moralizing, The high school's production culminated four years of work by predominantly senior cast and crew; yet, those they leave behind are a bright star for future years.

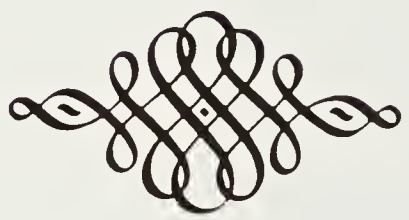

GODSPELL

LOVE

After setting high goals for themselves with the new auditorium, the drama department materialized a long planned dream to do the musical "Godspell." Sixteen of the school's most talented students worked for ten weeks to make the production a success. Eighteen hours a week took their toll on the actors and director alike, and sometimes it seemed the show would never make it to opening night. However, on December eighteenth, the show opened on schedule with a top-rate performance. When it was all over on the twenty-second, the best show ever to come to Gloucester County closed. Those who missed the show, missed a truly unique experience.

AFS

Talent shows, banquets, bake sales, and walk-a-thons--its all part of an AFS'ers plan to make money. Everyone seemed to be interested in making money, and this year's club was no exception. Almost before our AFS student from Turkey, Ayse, had set foot on American soil, plans were underway to provide the money for next year's hosting of an exchange student. The AFS will also send its second student abroad next year. Audrey Miller, after many tests and reviews, will go to France next year on the AFS winter program. She is the first student to go from Gloucester High School in four years.

After being initiated, this new member could then attend the convention in Roanoke, Va. from January 10 and 11, where next year's state officers were elected. Then there was the film to be shown at the elementary schools in order to raise money, and already thoughts turned to next year's tapping ceremony, and next year's initaition

When the school body can't seem to run itself, the S.C.A. is always there to secure the ship. The S.C.A. consists of one representative from every homeroom, so they can't help but hear the suggestions and gripes from everyone. The S.C.A. supplied trash cans for the smoking area, which were desperately needed. They helped the Special Ed. Class by loaning them money for the school supply store. The club also added a place of relaxation and sunshine when they opened the courtyard to students. All in all, the S.C.A. made G.H.S. a pretty nice place to spend eight hours a day.

Campus life members worked with all these objectives around concerts, skating parties, bowling parties, and trips. The officers this year were as follows: President; Wesley Jones, Vice-President; Timmy Harris, and Reporter; David Andrews. The club was very large this year, and good participation, and the officers are hoping that next year's group will be as large and active.

P.E

Teaching P.E. has been made a little easier with the help of assistants, who are members of the junior or senior classes. These people have volunteered to help in every phase of the physical education program. They may lead one team in games, while the teacher leads the opposing team; they may keep scores, or run errands, but perhaps their bigegst asset is that they give the teacher some free time.

Led by Mr. Lewis, this year's chess team was one of the best ever. The club itself was large, and this caused a competitive spirit to the eventual improvement of the team itself, which was good. At the end of the season, Gloucester had compiled an impressive record and had taken the district trophy with ease. Congratulations to the team, and let's keep on winning!

FHA

Both the FHA and the HERO clubs were large this year. The clubs advanced technically because of the new facilities in the school. Miss Cassidy sponsors the FHA, and Mrs. Claybrook sponsors the HEROs. ART

The art club has had a busy year. Sketching trips, visiting museums, potteries, and picnics have all been part of their learning. They have visited commerical artists, and have tried to be commerical themselves with an art sale at Christmas. The sponsor is Miss Walker.

DANCE GROUP

The Soul City Strutters have really kept themselves busy this year. They practice 2 or 3 times a week perfecting their dances. They provided entertainment for half-time at basketball games, danced for the black history week assembly, and for the cosmetology's fashion show. To raise money for the outfits the group wears, the students sponsored a dance. Choreographer Micheal Stokes and his assistant, Denise Berry, plan to keep the Soul City Strutters busy practicing this summer for the Bicentennial Celebration.

BAND

The band looking good in their new uniforms.

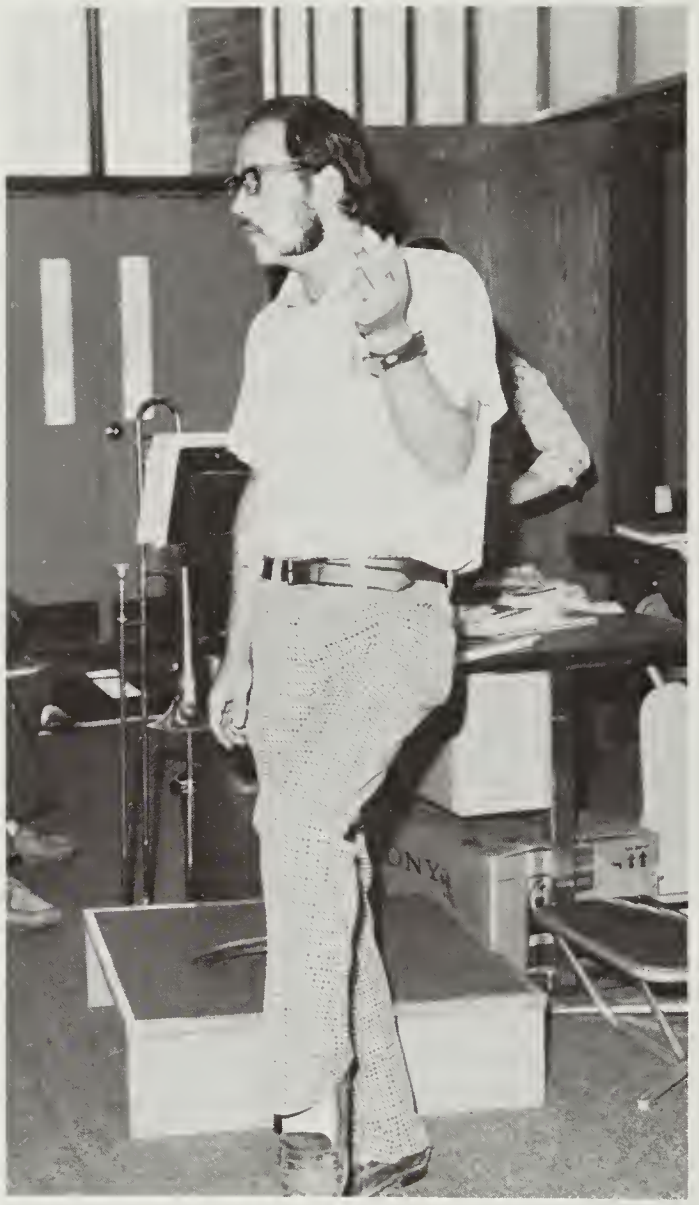

Bicentennial marchers Vernon Green and Vinnie Lee

After getting off to a slow start because of rain and quitters, the bnad finally got off the ground and got going. With the introduction of the Michigan State University style of marching, the band was weak since the moves were hard to master. Almost every practice during the first 4 weeks of school was rained on. Some people caught colds, and even more quit. Then, in the middle of September, the band was reorganized. The number of practices were cut down, and so were the extra-long practices.

Still plagued with the rain, the band improved to the point where everything looked and sounded good. In November, with a band of only 42 people, the group went to Urbana Oyster Festival and placed second in the tight competition there. This was a sure sign that the band was back to normal, and had finally broken into the new style of marching.

FOOTBALL

The 1975 Gloucester Duke's football team.

Is that what you see on the front line?

The Gloucester Duke.

Football was not a hot sport at Gloucester High this year. With a record of nine losses and one win, the Dukes had one of their worst seasons ever. Yet, despite all the disappointments team spirit was high, and some players were outstanding. The team had a sharp blow when Tim Hall, the team's leading player, was knocked out for the season in an early game. Their only win being against Windsor, the team had a hard time getting everything together. Plays were fumbled, kicks blocked, and many other times, the team just could not hold up to the opponents.

Gloucester's defense works on an opponent.

Two players at one of the many cold games.

David Tillage punts . . .

At the end of the season, Coach Don Mullins quit his job as head coach after ten years. Next year, there will be a new football coach in Gloucester to bring the team back into contention. And none too soon, because next year Gloucester will be playing in the new York League against tougher teams. Good luck to the team and the new coach, and let's hope they work well together.

GIRL'S BASKETBALL

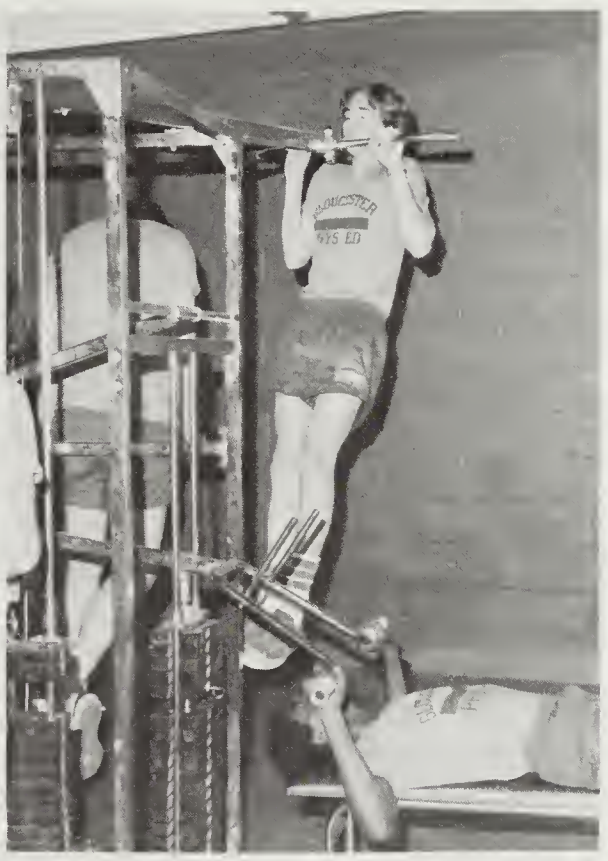

This year, under the leadership of Ms. Roberta Wiatt, the girl's basketball team had a very good season. Some new records were set by the team's star senior player, Donnalyn Cooke. Donnalyn not only set school records, but also set records in the district. She was an all-district selection, and the root of the team for Gloucester. The team itself did very well during the season, only to lose at the end of the season in the tournament.

This year's basketball team was a far cry from the team that won no games the previous year. With the takeover by Mr. Holstrom, head coach, the team came alive to post one of its best seasons in years. This year's team has no new paragraph definetly come along way, and let's hope that in the future, our teams keep progressing.

JV BASKETBALL

The year started off right for the J.V. basketball team when they won the first game played in the new gymnasium. This year's team didn't have a great season, but it was a season which showed the young talent in this group. With basketball teams improving in Gloucester, it looks very good in the future for our school.

He also has the lowest stroke average of 77. Tommy Zwerner set the low 18-hole record for freshmen at 78. Also this year, Timmy Poland went to both the District and Regional Tournaments.

WRESTLING

A new sport appeared at Gloucester this year in the form of wrestling. Coached by Mr. Shell, the team began their season in the winter months. The team finished with a 5 and 9 record and much enthusiasm.

The three mile run over the William and Mary course was an unmatchable experience of running against the finest teams in the state. The record for the team, coached by Mr. Fratkin, was 2 wins and 3 losses.

Second Row: Franklin Washington, Andy Spurell, Nathan Brown, Janet Matous, Peter Zahn, Julie Richards, Mike Cooper, Adrian Berry, Doug Williams, Phil Murphree, and Coach Fratkin.

Aided by a new track and new high jump and pole vault pits, the Dukes maintained their superiority in the district in many events. Although the season was not a winning one, in many instances, a few points either way made the difference. Two team members, Keith and Donnie Rhea, qualified for the state meet in the pole vault. The team was coached by Mr. Fratkin and Mr. Holstrom.

For the first time in several years, the track women at GHS were able to have their own team. Ms. Lucretia Fullwood was coach, and the team traveled with, and competed against the same schools as the boys' team. Janet Matous, a discus thrower, qualified for the state meet in that event.

Getting to Northampton takes quite a while.

We like our new shoes!

No, I'm never ready to run.

THE UNDEFEATED HOCKEY TEAM

Standing: T. Edmonds, J. Richards, C. Spence, K. Ray, T. Royals, K. Robins, Y. Brickhouse

Senior Players

Undefeated this season, the field hockey team was also victorious in spirit. They finished the season with a total of 36 goals. The highest score against them was 2 goals, and they were scored against by only 4 teams. Congratulations Coach Brickhouse and team!

GIRLS TENNIS

Separate from the boy's team this year, the girl's tennis team was coached by Ms. Parrish. Interested and enthusiastic, the team began building this year. They played against veteran teams and acquired knowledge which only experience can teach. The team went on to place second in the district tournament.

BOY'S TENNIS

Fastest serve in the East?

Backed by a winning season, the boy's tennis team attended the district tournament with high hopes. Just narrowly missing first place, the team knew that they had maintained their strong standings in both singles and doubles competition. Also, with only one senior leaving the team, next year's team should place very high in the district and even regional competition.

SOFTBALL

Ably coached by Ms. Roberta Wiatt, the softball team smashed in runs and upset fly balls. In several of the team's games, the girls came from behind to win the game in the last few exciting innings. Although the team's record was not outstanding, it was very good, and shows that even in what looks like a hopeless game, a comeback can be made.

BASEBALL

Bryan accepts his baseball award.

Finishing with a season of 11 wins and 3 losses, the baseball team lost the district championship to Northampton in the crucial last game. The team played exciting ball, and found that it had a large following crowd. Enthusiastic about next year, the team plans to retain their good form and high image.

PRELUDE TO DAWN

Music by Straight Flush

One of many Senior couples

9M

After weeks of waiting, planning, and laboring, the night of May eighth finally arrived. The commons area was transformed into a "Prelude to Dawn," and the Junior-Senior Prom began. Beneath glowing blue lights, couples danced to music provided by "Straight Flush." The Seniors promenaded in, and Laverne Taylor was crowned Prom Queen.

The night wore on, the lights grew dimmer, and hairdos fell. Finally, at 12:00, the last song was played, and only the clean-up committee remained.

GRADUATION

The Class of 76.

Mr. Briggs, for their last time, offers needed advice.

The president of Madison College, Dr. Ronald E. Carrier, was a guest speaker.

JUNE 9th 1976

Rev. Peoples looks on as Mr. Blanks delivers the Charge To The Class.

Ayse receives her diploma.

As Denise receives her diploma, she experiences the feelings of being a Senior.

The Band, under the direction of Mr. L. Morrison, provided the music.

Looking back at the year that has so quickly passes, Seniors may tend to get sentimental about their last few days together. But their sojourn at Gloucester High was peppered with growth experiences that became major issues in this election year. Student apathy was the war cry of one enthusiastic Senior who tried anf failed to bring political representatives into the school. An undfeated hockey team contributed a widly lexciting demonstartion os spirit and esprit de corps when they celebrated their victory in our Commons area with a victory dance. "Jaws" frigehtned us; "Cuckoo's Nest" horrified us, but we celebrated Danny Ray's aunt's success in that motion pictured. We found that living in Gloucester, even for a short sojourn, can be an exciting experience.

We, the student body, say thank you to the taxpayers of Gloucester for our school.

Every sojourn has its memories.
